

👁 Activity 1

Go to the library and find in the archive a report or thesis with a similar research perspective. Answer the following questions:

- 1) How many sections is the report/thesis divided into?
- 2) Which numbering system for sections and sub-sections is used? How many levels are there?
- 3) Can you follow the logical development of the research? If yes, how?
- 4) Which sections are included before the introduction, after the conclusion? How are they set apart from the main sections?

👁 Activity 2

Prepare a table of contents of your report/ thesis. Submit or bring a hardcopy (submission mode and deadline are to be announced)
